Core Services

1. Medicinal Cannabis Therapy: Medicanna Health is recognized for its expertise in prescribing cannabis-based medicines in Australia. The clinic offers a variety of medicinal cannabis products to meet diverse patient needs, including oils, tinctures, capsules, topicals, and vaporizers. These treatments are used to manage conditions such as chronic pain, epilepsy, multiple sclerosis, cancer-related symptoms, and mental health disorders like anxiety and PTSD.
2. Integrative Medicine: The clinic blends traditional healthcare with alternative therapies to create personalized treatment plans. This approach considers all aspects of health, including physical, emotional, and lifestyle factors, to promote long-term wellness. Services include nutritional therapy, lifestyle medicine, mind-body therapies, physical therapies, and preventative health strategies.
3. Holistic Healing: Medicanna Health offers herbal healing, phytotherapy, and wellness therapies by trusted holistic health practitioners. These natural treatments are designed to support overall well-being and address the root causes of health concerns.

Eligibility and Requirements

Before commencing treatment, patients must provide a recent health summary from their GP or specialist. It's important to note that certain criteria must be met before treatment can commence, and an appointment does not guarantee a prescription. The clinic is unable to assist patients on methadone or opioid treatment programs or those with a history of drug dependency or schizophrenia/psychosis.

Telehealth Services

Medicanna Health conducts pre-screening services via telehealth, ensuring privacy and confidentiality for all Australian patients. This allows patients across Australia to access specialized medicinal cannabis prescribers who can tailor treatment plans to individual needs.
