

What is Medicinal Cannabis (Marijuana)? ^

Medicinal Cannabis refers to a range of approved pharmaceutical preparations of medicinal cannabis like oils, tinctures, capsules and other extracts where the specific active components are known, carefully controlled, standardised and is regulated for patient use to ensure consistency across treatments. The Medicinal Cannabis industry in Australia falls under the Therapeutic Goods Act 1989 (TGA). Under TGA, Medicinal Cannabis is only administered through the following schemes:

- Authorised Prescriber Scheme (AP)
- Special Access Scheme (SAS)
- Clinical Trials

Cannabis remains a highly regulated drug in Australia and growing or using cannabis without these relevant licenses or authorised prescription remains illegal.

How does Medicinal Cannabis work? ▾

What is CBD? ▾

What is THC? ▾

What can I use Medicinal Cannabis for? ^

Medicinal Cannabis can be used for a variety of conditions that are currently approved by TGA:

- Chronic Non-Cancer Pain
- Cancer Pain and Symptoms Management
- Neuropathic Pain
- Fibromyalgia
- Migraine
- Chemotherapy Induced Nausea & Vomiting (CINV)
- Refractory Nausea & Vomiting
- Palliative Care
- Multiple Sclerosis
- Spasticity
- Seizure Management
- PTSD
- Insomnia
- Anxiety
- Anorexia
- Dementia
- Dystonia
- Parkinson's Disease
- Huntington Disease
- Tourette's Syndrome
- Autism Spectrum Disorder

Will I get a "High" from Medicinal Cannabis? ▾

What are the Side Effects of Medicinal Cannabis? ▾

How do I know what product and dose is right for me? ^

The sensitivity of each person's underlying Endocannabinoid System (ECS) is highly variable, therefore there is no single type of product, dosage or mode of delivery that is optimal for everyone. Sometimes you may have to trial a few various Medicinal Cannabis product before getting to the right combination or dosage. Your Doctor will guide and advise you on which product to trial for your conditions during the consultation.

Indiva vs Sativa varieties? ▾

How is medicinal cannabis taken? ^

Medicinal cannabis can be taken in a variety of ways depending on the clinical indication. We generally recommend oral administration through oil drops or capsules. We recommend vaporisation of flowers via a TGA approved vapouriser if you are prescribed a dry flower/herbs products, which you may obtain from Cannabis Dispensary.

How quickly should I feel the effects of medicinal cannabis? ▾

Can I still drive or operate heavy machinery with medicinal cannabis? ▾

I am already self-administering cannabis / marijuana, what are the benefits of Medicinal Cannabis? ^

Recreational cannabis / marijuana is very different to medicinal cannabis. For quality and safely purposes, we recommend that you always choose a legal cannabis source. Medical grade cannabis has been tested for purity and is certified as contaminant free, this is not the case with cannabis obtained via illegal means.

Who can access Medicinal Cannabis? ▾

Is Medicinal Cannabis expensive or covered by PBS? ▾

What are your fees? ▾

How are consultations conducted? ^

Our doctor consults via Tele-health. We find this to be the best option in order to assist patients gain access to Medicinal Cannabis as we are not restricted by location and can help patients all over Australia. Individual states and territories also have their own separate legislation in regards to approvals process and the type of Medicinal Cannabis product patient can access. This will be discussed in further details by your doctor.

Will one consultation be enough? ▾

Where do I obtain my medicinal cannabis medications once I am approved? ▾

ABOUT US

We are excited to welcome patients from all walks of life. Our Specialist Medicinal Cannabis Doctors will take the time to understand your specific needs so that we can treat you effectively and safely.

CALL US NOW

SEE IF YOU QUALIFY TODAY