Some of you may think: What are schools in the US like? What activities can students 71? Why do they wear casual clothes to school? Where do students have lessons? This report answers some of these questions.

There're two types of schools in the US: public and private schools. Students studying at public schools don't have to pay tuition fee (学费) b 72 the schools get money from the government. However, private schools have to find their own funding (资金), so they may charge parents a lot.

Students in the US go to preschool for three years. They e 73 primary school at the age of six. Then they study for another 12 years before they can get their high school diploma (文凭).

Most schools in Shanghai, China want students to wear uniforms, but only about 20% of schools in the US want students to wear uniforms.

American schools encourage (鼓励) all students to take part in many activities such as sports and clubs. The two major sports for American students are American football and basketball. Q 74 clubs and activities include (包括) music groups, marching bands and debate teams.

There're some differences between schools in the US and Shanghai, but the schools in these two places have one goal: to provide an enjoyable learning e 75 for students.

E. Read the passage and answer the questions (根据短文回答问题): (6分)

Most companies would like their employees (雇员) to stay with the company for a long time. It takes time and trouble to find new, good employees. But what makes employees want to stay?

77. Some usual perks (福利) are vacation time and bonuses (奖金) at the end of the year or for doing a good job. But some companies offer strange perks. One company gives free haircuts at the office. Another has washing machines for people who do not have time to do laundry (洗衣) at home. And one offers free pet care.

Many people like these perks. But other things are also important. People also want a job that they enjoy doing and where people treat them well. If they have these things and a few perks, they will want to stay at a job for a long time.

76. Do most companies want their employees to stay with them for a long time?

77. What can be filled (被填入) in the blank at the beginning of the second paragraph?
